

OSHA Recordkeeping and Reporting

Featuring: Cari Gray, CSP, Bureau of Workers' Compensation

MONDAY, JANUARY 23

11:30 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.
(11:00 a.m. Registration)

Canton Regional Chamber of Commerce

Join the Stark County, Summit County and CAK Safety Councils for a seminar about OSHA recordkeeping. With the current online reporting requirement, it is more important than ever to have your OSHA 300 log accurate. Those responsible for creating, updating and signing the OSHA Recordkeeping documents should join us. Public employers who fall under PERRP requirements will obtain valuable knowledge about logs and submission as well.

Objectives:

- ◆ Review of OSHA recordkeeping requirements for workplace injuries and illnesses
- ◆ Examine the correct use of the OSHA recordkeeping forms;
- ◆ Demonstrate how to complete the OSHA 300 Log
- ◆ Discuss OSHA online reporting rule and how to comply

Registration required - please register online by Jan. 18 www.StarkSafetyCouncil.org

Cost: $15 per Safety Council Member; $20 non-member (includes a boxed lunch)

Credits: Safety Council Meeting Credit and Two Hour Group Rating training

ABOUT: Cari Gray, CSP

Safety Consultant Specialist, Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation

Cari has been a Safety Consultant with the BWC since May 2005. She works with a diverse range of companies in many different industries, from public entities to a wide variety of private companies. She helps customers evaluate their current safety situations, set goals and create plans of action to successfully achieve their goals. She also teaches many safety related classes for the BWC.

Prior to working at the BWC, Cari was an Environmental, Safety and Health Manager for General Electric. She also worked in the Safety Department of an automotive based company, after graduating from The Ohio State University in 1999.

Cari is very passionate about the safety and health of Ohio employees. Her philosophy is based around top management commitment, employee involvement and personal responsibility. Her time outside of work is happily spent with her husband, two children, two dogs and flock of chickens.
